

Inventory Selections

Discount Prices on All Coins in this Catalog

When our sales figures for 1978 were tallied last month, our total rare coin sales volume turned out to be the highest in our history. We realized that that called for some form of "thanks" to be sent to you, our customers. We also realized that, with sales this high, New England could afford to send that "thank you" in the form of a temporary inventory discount. Indeed, it has always been our policy to pass on savings to our customers whenever we can.

So, every item in this month's Inventory Selections has been reduced in price. And in browsing through this catalog, you'll find some extremely high-quality material: like an 1836 Gobrecht Proof Seated Liberty Dollar in Proof-63 with dazzling, fully reflective fields; an extremely rare 1894-O Barber Dime in MS-67; a 1914-S Indian Head Eagle in MS-69 with spectacular lustre; and so many more. Be sure to take advantage of these fine values soon. Our discount prices will only be effective until March 14.

You'll also notice that New England has now fully adopted ANA grading terminology. Again, our thanks to the many New England collectors who took part in December's ANA grading survey. We hope you find the new terminology easier to use. If you'd like a reprint of the conversion table we published in December (converting our old Sheldon terminology to ANA terminology), write to us c/o the editor of Inventory Selections.

Don't forget that we include an extra order form in each issue. Pass it along to a friend. New England would like the opportunity to serve every collector and every collector's needs.

EARLY HALF DIMES

1794, PROOF-65. V-3. A gorgeous coin with full, unmarred proof surfaces beneath handsome steel gray and blue-green toning. 100% fully struck with full denticles on both sides. Nearly superb quality, and as obviously an intentional proof striking as any pre-1860 seated half dime we've seen. No adjustment marks or noteworthy impairments. Very possibly the first regular issue silver coin struck by the United States government! A coin of exquisite quality and rarity, and one with virtually unlimited potential.

The "Best" Way to Acquire Gold?

by Gregory Potter
Editor, Inventory Selections

The Gold Problem

They go on continuously: arguments about the "best way" to acquire gold. Some investors advise purchasing gold bullion. Others prefer bullion coinage. Still others swear by the merits of rare coins. Which type of investor is right?

All of them. And none of them. In the final analysis, there is no "best way" to acquire gold — at least, not in any universal sense. Only on an individual basis can an investor truly decide which form of gold is "best." Round-table arguments about the best form of gold are usually futile.

In fact, most knowledgeable financial advisors will never categorically argue that one form of gold is better than another. He or she may try to convince a client that gold in general is good. After all, gold has a long history of international acceptance, it's available in portable, easy to store forms and, unlike many other economic mediums, its value cannot be easily inflated or deflated by governmental decree. For these and other reasons, over 80 modern nations keep large stores of gold on hand (even though gold is no longer the international monetary standard). For these and other reasons, gold is an excellent addition to almost any financial portfolio. However, the form of gold an individual purchases should be based on that individual's own economic goals and aesthetic preferences.

If you're uncertain about the best form of gold for you, here are a few pros and cons concerning gold bullion, gold bullion coins and rare gold coinage.

Gold Bullion

Of all available forms of gold, bullion is the simplest. To keep track of how much your bullion is worth, all you need to know is its degree of purity (or "fineness"), its weight in ounces and the current price of gold per ounce. Determining gold's purity is easy. Each bullion piece is stamped with numbers indicating what percent of the piece is pure gold. A fineness of .999 is the purest gold one can buy — and true bullion should never be less than .995 fine. Your gold's weight, of course, can be measured on any scale that records ounces. The current price of gold can be checked by picking up a copy of The Wall Street Journal (or, in many cases, the financial page of your own local paper). These figures can then be plugged into the following formula:

the weight of your gold in ounces X fineness X price of gold per ounce = the value of your bullion.

If the price of gold goes up dramatically after you buy your bullion, you stand to make a quick, tidy profit. If it goes down, you lose money. Nothing complicated about that. This is why gold bullion often appeals to investors who are looking for short-term gains (and who are willing to risk short-term losses).

Bullion is also the purest form of gold one can buy. While U.S. law states that gold coins must be at least 90% pure, gold bullion, in order to be properly defined as "bullion," must be at least 99.5% pure.

Finally, gold bullion can be as easy (or as difficult) to store as you wish. It comes in 10 sizes ranging from 1/4-ounce wafers to 400-ounce "Good Delivery Bars." Each wafer or bar is assayed (tested for fineness) before sale and stamped with a number indicating its fineness.

Unfortunately, where investments are concerned, ease and simplicity are sometimes double-edged swords. Because bullion is a simple form of gold, it is relatively easy to counterfeit. Almost anyone can take a .9 fine bar of gold and stamp it .999. Some individuals have even been known to coat bars of other metals with a thin overlay of gold. So buying through private sale is a risky and rare procedure.

This is why bullion is usually purchased through a broker. But brokers may require bullion to be assayed before each sale. This makes bullion a relatively difficult commodity to place on the market. Moreover, the broker's fee and the cost of the assay are, of course, taken out of the seller's profits. So sellers seldom receive the actual value of their bullion.

Gold Bullion Coins

Gold bullion coins are, in the opinion of many investors, an improvement over gold bullion. Such investors point out that bullion coins seem to have all the advantages of bullion with a minimum of its disadvantages.

In general, bullion coins are defined as coins struck and acquired for their gold content. Examples of bullion coins include restrikes of official coins formerly minted by Mexico, Turkey, Austria and Switzerland; and special foreign commemoratives like those of the United Kingdom and Canada. The most popular bullion coin is currently the South African Krugerrand, first minted in 1967.

Essentially, gold bullion coins are convenient ways to own gold bullion. Bullion coins don't need to be assayed and, because their designs make them harder to counterfeit than bullion, they don't have to be acquired through a broker. Additionally, they offer aesthetic pleasure to collectors who enjoy numismatic designs.

Like bullion, the value of bullion coinage moves up and down with the price of gold. (Each bullion coin is valued at a slight premium over its gold content price.) The price of gold, in turn, is determined by supply and demand as well as the general public's view of the monetary and political situation. So, like bullion, bullion coins often attract short-term investors who want to take advantage of quick upturns in the gold market. Keeping bullion coins for too long, however, can hurt the potential value of one's portfolio. For example, if an investor had bought a Krugerrand in mid-1974, he would have paid approximately $130 for it. By the end of '74, that same investor could have sold his Kruger for almost $200 and, thus, have made about $70 profit. But, if that investor decided to keep his coin for another year before selling, he could only have sold it for $140 by December, 1975. Profit from the sale of our investor's Krugerrand this time only gives him about $10.*

At present, prospects for gold bullion coin holders are fairly good. Gold prices are high and, as of January, appear stable. Krugerrands especially look good at this time (although New England Rare Coin Galleries does not endorse the Krugerrand nor do we seek to acquire them for our inventory). 2.1 million Krugers were sold in the first 4 months of 1978. If greater quantities of them continue to be purchased month after month, the laws of supply and demand may push up the Krugerrand's retail premium over gold (which is currently around 6-7%). Moreover, if present protest campaigns lead to a federal ban on further Krugerrand imports, the scarcity of the coins could drive up prices even further.

Whatever the future may hold for bullion coins, they are not commodities that should be purchased, stored and forgotten. Knowledgeable investors advise buying when the market is low and selling when the time looks right. This requires a good deal of diligence and effort on the investor's part.

Rare Gold Coins

Rare gold coins, on the other hand, are ideal for collectors who want to purchase a tangible asset and "forget" it — because, as the history of rare coin appreciation shows, rare coin prices tend to increase steadily from year to year.*

This, of course, means that purchasing rare gold coins might not be the best way for the short-term investor to acquire gold. We can see this by looking at the average appreciation of rare coins compared with the appreciation of gold bullion (and, consequently, gold bullion coins) in 1973. On average, the price of rare coins rose only 37.5% in that year.

Gold bullion, however, shot up by a dramatic 84%. If you were planning to buy a tangible asset in January of 1973 and sell it in December of that year, you would have been approximately 46.5% better off with bullion or bullion coins.

However, over the long run, rare gold coins have substantially outperformed bullion mediums. To illustrate, let's again use 1973 as a starting point. This time, however, we'll assume that our investor wants to keep his tangible asset until the end of 1977. At the end of '77, gold prices were up from their January, '73 price by 161.5%. Quite a dramatic gain — but not as dramatic as that of rare coins. At the close of '77, the average price of all high-quality rare coins had increased over its January '73 level by 196.7%! Over this period of time, the rare coin collector would have been better off than the bullion collector by approximately 35.2%.

The reason that rare coins have done better than bullion mediums over the long run is that rare coin values have little to do with gold prices and everything to do with scarcity. Compared to other tangibles, the supply of available, high-quality rare coins is extremely low, while the number of rare coin collectors increases daily. Simple laws of supply and demand, therefore, constantly push rare coin prices upward in a relatively steady surge. In contrast, bullion prices fluctuate from month to month, year to year. Successful bullion purchasing requires careful monitoring of the market. Successful rare coin buying does not.

Is this upward surge in rare coin value likely to continue? Most experts think so. The number of rare coins is, after all, fixed. New supplies cannot be mined or minted. So once a rare coin is taken off the market, it cannot be replaced — and its absence increases the scarcity and price of rare coins in general. Only a drastic decrease in the number of collectors would pull rare coin prices down, and there are no signs of such a decrease in sight. In fact, just the opposite is true. Greater and greater numbers collectors are discovering rare coins each day.

Nor is value the only reason for this growing interest in rare gold coins. There are also the pleasurable aspects of collecting: the beauty of rare coin designs, the satisfaction of owning something truly rare and the history the coins represent. Moreover, rare gold coins are readily marketable throughout the world, difficult to counterfeit, portable and, as long-term economic mediums, excellent for inclusion in retirement or pension plans.

The Best Way to Acquire Gold

The form of gold you acquire will play a large role in determining how successful you are in fulfilling your economic goals and aesthetic desires. So before you buy, examine your current investment portfolio needs. Then compare the various forms of gold in light of those needs. Only a careful examination of your own financial position can help you determine which form of gold is best for you.

January's heavily active trading has been followed by equally active trading this month. Hundreds of collectors were in attendance at the recent Long Beach Coin & Stamp Show (held February 1-4 in Long Beach, CA). Hundreds more attended the recent auctions held by Bowers & Ruddy, Kagin's and Superior. Buying and selling was intensive at all of these events. If present trends continue, 1979 could be another record year for the numismatic marketplace.

One of the areas that should help '79 to become a record year is silver coinage. Last month, we reported that silver bullion had broken the $6 per ounce mark. In mid-February, silver rose to a high of $6.59 per ounce. This continual and dramatic rise in silver prices seems to have encouraged many collectors and investors to buy more rare silver coinage. As a result, Mercury Dimes, which were reportedly slow in mid-January, have suddenly become extremely active. Roosevelt Dimes, active last month, are continuing to climb steadily in price. Walking Liberty Half Dollars have also made recent gains. A group of five 1941-S Walking Halves in MS-67, Fully Struck, sold this month for almost $700 each — but with silver rising rapidly, even this premium price may soon seem low.

In fact, demand for silver coinage has been so great in recent weeks that sources of quality silver have begun to dry up. This has led many collectors to turn to other areas for their rare coin purchasing. One of the primary areas to which collectors have turned is copper. Quality copper coinage has been bringing excellent prices this month. Nickel, too, is on the upswing. A 1937-D 3-Legged Buffalo Nickel in MS-67 sold for approximately $2,000 during the first part of February.

Meanwhile, the price of rare gold coinage has remained high, but relatively stable this month (probably due to so much attention being paid to silver) with heavy activity in both the wholesale and retail markets. A few of the gold pieces sold by New England this month include an 1854-S Liberty Head Double Eagle in MS-67 and a 1907 Saint Gaudens High Relief Flat Edge in MS-67. California Gold in particular has proved popular this month, and known supplies are quickly dwindling.

The only area that has slipped in February is Commemorative coinage. It appears that some of the major commemorative dealers have been selling rapidly and freely in past months, causing commemorative prices in general to decline. However, certain high-grade commemoratives are still doing quite well. For example, a Lafayette $1 in MS-67 was recently reported sold for over $6,000.

The 1979 ANA Poster

On January 19, New England Rare Coin Auctions publicly unveiled its design for the 1979 ANA Auction Poster. Present at the unveiling were over 60 NERCA numismatists and guests — including ANA board member Charles O'Donnell, NENA board member Arthur Fitts and poster designer Susan Browne Hansen. NERCA President Lee J. Bellisario announced that Poster #1/500 (the first hand-signed ANA Poster) will be sold as the first lot at the ANA Auction with proceeds being donated to the ANA. A limited number of special edition posters (hand signed and numbered by the artist) are still available for $25. Regular edition posters are available for $10. To reserve yours, send your order to: ANA Poster, New England Rare Coin Auctions, P.O. Box 1776, Boston, MA 02105.

GOLD DOLLARS — TYPE THREE

1856 Up.5, MS-65. Full blazing mint frost. Akers writes: "The data shows that there were 85 appearances of the 1856 gold dollar with Upright 5, and 169 of the 1856 Slanting 5. This, of course, would seem to indicate that the Upright 5 variety is only about twice as rare as the Slanting 5 variety. This ratio does not match my own experience, however, and I would estimate that the Upright 5 variety is most likely five to ten times as rare."	1,250.00	925.00

EARLY QUARTER EAGLES

1802, MS-63. Full blazing mint frost, with a hint of P-L surface on the reverse. Only the characteristic slight weakness of strike in the centers keep us from calling this beautiful coin a gem. Absolutely NO adjustment marks. Breen #4 which is considered by some to be an overdate. (If you follow this particular school of thought, this coin is approximately 3 times rarer than the 1802/1 overdate varieties.) All early quarter eagles are extremely rare and underrated in choice mint state. This is an excessively rare coin, in exceptional condition. It would grace the very finest collection.

Our Complete Numismatic Services

1. Guarantees

☐ Grading

We guarantee that coins purchased from New England Rare Coin Galleries are graded accurately. They will meet our high standards whenever you decide to sell them. If you sell them to us, we guarantee to purchase them at the same grade as they were when originally purchased from us.

Our grading system is patterned after that of the American Numismatic Association. Developed in 1978, the A.N.A. System is rapidly being adopted by virtually the entire professional numismatic community. Its designations are:

Poor.....	1
Fair.....	2
About Good.....	3
Good.....	4,5
Very Good.....	8,10
Fine.....	12,15
Very Fine.....	20,25,30,35
Extremely Fine.....	40,45
About Uncirculated.....	50,55,58
Mint State.....	60,63,65,67,69,70
Proof.....	60,63,65,67,69,70

Slash grades indicate obverse/reverse designations. For example, a grade of 65/63 describes a coin with an obverse of Mint State 65 and a reverse of Mint State 63.

☐ Authenticity

We further guarantee that all coins sold by New England Rare Coin Galleries are authentic. To protect our customers, and as proof of our certainty that no altered or counterfeit coin can escape our attention, we guarantee to refund the full purchase price, plus 10% interest per year, on any non-authentic coin acquired from us.

☐ Documentation

These guarantees are issued in writing with all coins purchased from New England Rare Coin Galleries. Each written guarantee is personally endorsed by two professional numismatists.

☐ Satisfaction

If, for any reason, you are not satisfied with your purchases, you may return them within 30 days of the date you received them for a full refund or replacement.

2. Expert Counseling

Use New England's toll-free number to consult with some of the most knowledgeable numismatists in America. Our expert staff is often sought by government agencies, museums and other coin dealers for advice on authenticity and value. We supply free information on placing coins in retirement plans, building rare coin portfolios and liquidating collections.

3. Selection

Our multi-million dollar inventory of U.S. rare coins is the largest in the world. New England buyers examine several million dollars' worth of coins each week to bring our customers the very best values.

4. Want Lists

Send your Want List to your New England account executive. He'll use our computerized facilities to help you locate any coin you desire. There is no charge for this service, and you are under no obligation to buy. You will, however, have the first opportunity to purchase each coin on your list that we locate.

5. Credit Cards

You can use your Master Charge, VISA or American Express cards to purchase rare coins from New England. Simply fill in the appropriate spaces on your order form.

6. Deferred Payment

Our Deferred Payment Plan makes financing your rare coin purchases convenient. The plan is easy: 25% down payment; 25% each 30 days for a maximum of 90 days; and absolutely no interest charges! $200 is the minimum order allowed under the plan. If you'd like more information, call our toll-free number.

7. Approval Accounts

Our Approval Account Service allows you to personally examine coins before you purchase them. Send for an Approval Account Application. If you qualify, you can have coins sent to you with a simple phone call.

8. Auctions

If you're thinking of consigning your collection to auction, consider New England Rare Coin Auctions. We offer effective professional services. In fact, we've been selected to conduct the 1979 A.N.A. Auction. Our toll-free Auction Line number is: 1-800-225-6794, Extension #99.

9. Purchasing

If you prefer to sell your coins directly, send them insured and by registered mail to New England. We'll reimburse you for postage costs. Or call our Purchasing Manager, Russell Vaughn for more information. Our buying prices are the highest in the industry.

10. Brochures

New England has several informational brochures which we'll send to you free upon request. They include:

- ☐ Rare Coins: The Outstanding Investment
- ☐ Price & Demand in the Numismatic Marketplace
- ☐ Questions & Answers on Consigning to Auction
- ☐ Coins & Keoghs

11. Toll-free Wats Line

Contacting New England is free. Use our toll-free WATS line: 1-800-225-6794 (in Massachusetts, please call: 617-227-8800) We'll be happy to assist you in any way we can.

All coins in MS-63

..... individually priced at $3,620.00
..... now available at $3,300.00

Few numismatic possessions can rival gold type sets for sheer...

Beauty: These sets have been assembled with extreme care by New England's own expert numismatists. Each has been "balanced" so that its members are of uniform grade and appearance. Each contains high-quality gold specimens — not "extras" or "over-stocked" items. And each shines with that special lustre of finely preserved gold.

Desirability: Because properly balanced gold type sets are extremely difficult for the average collector to assemble, sets of this sort have always been in high demand. In fact, over the last 10 years, gold type sets have out-appreciated gold bullion by approximately 5% per year. And New England's gold type sets are particularly desirable — because they're backed by our special authenticity, grading and repurchase guarantees.

Value: Normally, New England type sets cost from $3,620 to $7,925. But Inventory Selections readers can now purchase them for only $3,300 to $6,750. (See the information above for specific prices.) However, only a limited number of these sets are currently available. And prices are subject to change as market conditions shift. If you've ever wanted to own a complete, expertly selected choice of rare U.S. gold, now is an excellent time to order.

Reserve Your New England Gold Type Set Today. Call our toll-free number (1-800-225-6794) (in Mass: 617-227-8800) and discuss these type sets with your New England account executive. Or write to New England and let us know you'd like to be called.

Dear Inventory Selections subscriber,

At New England Rare Coin Galleries, we consider Inventory Selections subscribers as our most important clients. So when our numismatists locate new supplies of fine rare coins, we like to offer them to you first, before they're offered to the general public.

That's why we're publishing the Inventory Selections Supplement. It's a special advance list of our latest rare coin offerings mailed exclusively to Inventory Selections subscribers. Included here are items so new that we couldn't possibly have included them in our regular monthly catalog — items from the February Long Beach Coin & Stamp Expo, and items acquired over the past three weeks from private collections. As an Inventory Selections subscriber, you have the opportunity to order any of these fine values before the general public sees them.

However, we suggest you order soon. These coins will be withheld from public sale only until the publication of our March Inventory Selections. So when you locate something you want, call your New England Account Executive right away. And feel free to use our toll-free number: 1-800-225-6794. It's the quickest, most convenient way to reserve the coins you want.

LIBERTY HEAD QUARTER EAGLES

1840, MS-60, SEMI P-L. Extremely well struck for the date, although very slightly weak in the centers. One of the rarest of all quarter eagles in mint state, and an important first year of type coin. Akers writes "The first year of the new Liberty Head type designed by Christian Gobrecht. Always very flatly struck on the head of Liberty, the stars, and on the eagle. Much more rare than the standard references and even the low mintage would indicate, particularly in grades above EF. I have never seen a strictly uncirculated piece or anything even really close. Very underrated."	1,950.00
1841-C, AU-58, FULL STRIKE. According to Akers. "This scarce date is always weakly struck, particularly on the head of Liberty, although most examples do have a wire rim. The specimens that I have seen all have a tiny C mintmark embedded in the feathers of the arrow. Because of the poor striking, many specimens appear more worn than they actually are. Nevertheless, strictly uncirculated specimens are very rare and I have seen only two or three pieces in that grade, the finest being an Unc-60+ coin that Paramount sold last year." This specimen has NO weakness of strike and lovely satin-like fields.	1,150.00

Our Complete Numismatic Services

1. Guarantees

☐ Grading

We guarantee that coins purchased from New England Rare Coin Galleries are graded accurately. They will meet our high standards whenever you decide to sell them. If you sell them to us, we guarantee to purchase them at the same grade as they were when originally purchased from us.

Our grading system is patterned after that of the American Numismatic Association. Developed in 1978, the A.N.A. System is rapidly being adopted by virtually the entire professional numismatic community. Its designations are:

Poor.....	1
Fair.....	2
About Good.....	3
Good.....	4,5
Very Good.....	8,10
Fine.....	12,15
Very Fine.....	20,25,30,35
Extremely Fine.....	40,45
About Uncirculated.....	50,55,58
Mint State.....	60,63,65,67,69,70
Proof.....	60,63,65,67,69,70

Slash grades indicate obverse/reverse designations. For example, a grade of 65/63 describes a coin with an obverse of Mint State 65 and a reverse of Mint State 63.

☐ Authenticity

We further guarantee that all coins sold by New England Rare Coin Galleries are authentic. To protect our customers, and as proof of our certainty that no altered or counterfeit coin can escape our attention, we guarantee to refund the full purchase price, plus 10% interest per year, on any non-authentic coin acquired from us.

☐ Documentation

These guarantees are issued in writing with all coins purchased from New England Rare Coin Galleries. Each written guarantee is personally endorsed by two professional numismatists.

☐ Satisfaction

If, for any reason, you are not satisfied with your purchases, you may return them within 30 days of the date you received them for a full refund or replacement.

2. Expert Counseling

Use New England's toll-free number to consult with some of the most knowledgeable numismatists in America. Our expert staff is often sought by government agencies, museums and other coin dealers for advice on authenticity and value. We supply free information on placing coins in retirement plans, building rare coin portfolios and liquidating collections.

3. Selection

Our multi-million dollar inventory of U.S. rare coins is the largest in the world. New England buyers examine several million dollars' worth of coins each week to bring our customers the very best values.

4. Want Lists

Send your Want List to your New England account executive. He'll use our computerized facilities to help you locate any coin you desire. There is no charge for this service, and you are under no obligation to buy. You will, however, have the first opportunity to purchase each coin on your list that we locate.

5. Credit Cards

You can use your Master Charge, VISA or American Express cards to purchase rare coins from New England. Simply fill in the appropriate spaces on your order form.

6. Deferred Payment

Our Deferred Payment Plan makes financing your rare coin purchases convenient. The plan is easy: 25% down payment; 25% each 30 days for a maximum of 90 days; and absolutely no interest charges! $200 is the minimum order allowed under the plan. If you'd like more information, call our toll-free number.

7. Approval Accounts

Our Approval Account Service allows you to personally examine coins before you purchase them. Send for an Approval Account Application. If you qualify, you can have coins sent to you with a simple phone call.

8. Auctions

If you're thinking of consigning your collection to auction, consider New England Rare Coin Auctions. We offer effective professional services. In fact, we've been selected to conduct the 1979 A.N.A. Auction. Our toll-free Auction Line number is: 1-800-225-6794, Extension #99.

9. Purchasing

If you prefer to sell your coins directly, send them insured and by registered mail to New England. We'll reimburse you for postage costs. Or call our Purchasing Manager, Russell Vaughn for more information. Our buying prices are the highest in the industry.

10. Brochures

New England has several informational brochures which we'll send to you free upon request. They include:

- ☐ Rare Coins: The Outstanding Investment
- ☐ Price & Demand in the Numismatic Marketplace
- ☐ Questions & Answers on Consigning to Auction
- ☐ Coins & Keoghs

11. Toll-free Wats Line

Contacting New England is free. Use our toll-free WATS line: 1-800-225-6794 (in Massachusetts, please call: 617-227-8800). We'll be happy to assist you in any way we can.
